

Introduce a CEB book into your coursework. You get a free desk copy. Every one of your students gets a free online copy.

CEB makes it easy to bring quality information to your classroom. Choose from over 100 online titles in a wide range of specialties—Business Law, Civil Litigation and Torts, Criminal Law, Employment Law and Workers' Compensation, Estate Planning, Family Law, and Real Property Law.

Bring any of our books into your coursework and, in addition to a complimentary desk copy for you, CEB will provide free online access to that title for every student in your class. Your students will be able to read, study, and consult the electronic text at any time, a value of up to $329—for free! What a difference that can make in their education (and budgets)! Specify as many titles as you'd like; there's no limit.

All CEB titles are written by respected leaders in their practice areas. You'll get the knowledge and experience of such top California legal thinkers as J. Scott Bovitz, James J. Brosnahan, and Cecily A. Drucker, and incisive and practical information from titles such as California Criminal Law Procedure and Practice, Jefferson's California Evidence Benchbook, and California Mortgage and Deed of Trust Practice.

These titles are available in print and as part of OnLAW™, CEB's powerful Web-based tool that puts the expertise and analysis in our authoritative titles directly on your desktop. OnLAW titles include links from citations in the text to California cases and codes and include attorney-drafted forms integrated into the text and accompanied with explanatory clauses, plus much more.

You may choose any of the CEB titles for review; we'll send you a print version, which you are welcome to keep if you adopt the title for classroom use.

When you adopt a CEB book for coursework, we will send you a website address for sign-in. You need only distribute the address to your students so that they can reach a sign-in page and, by simply entering the code, get access to the book. This can be done at any time from any computer with an Internet connection. It's that easy!

Great titles for your classroom. Free access for each of your students 24/7. An unbeatable offer from CEB. To review all titles available, go to ceb.com/lawprofessor.
